

FORGE THE OPERATOR

YOUR OPERATOR INDEX TRACKER

WHAT THIS IS

Every issue of Forge the Operator ends the same way: you rate your 3 highest-stakes calls that week — a hire, a cut, a hard conversation, a negotiation, whatever your version is — on whether you made them at your sharpest hour or your most depleted one.

That's it. That's the whole tool. No app, no login, no dashboard. Just a number you're honest with yourself about, once a week.

Two or more calls scoring below a 5? That's your leak. Not your strategy. Your input.

HOW TO USE IT

1. Once a week (Sunday night or Monday morning works well — right before your next issue lands), think back on your highest-stakes decisions from the past 7 days.
2. Pick the 3 that mattered most. Doesn't have to be dramatic — a hiring call, a hard no, a pricing decision, a tough conversation with a cofounder or a client all count.
3. For each one, score it 1-10: were you at your sharpest when you made that call, or running on fumes?
1-4 = made it depleted, reactive, or exhausted
5-7 = made it fine, not your best, not your worst
8-10 = made it at genuinely your sharpest
4. Log the average. Watch it over time, not week to week — one bad week means nothing. A pattern across four or five means everything.
